Two Persons Killed in Accidents
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two persons died in traffic accidents on the Arkansas highways during the weekend.
State Police said James Miser, 18, of Kensett and Richard Collins, 16, of Sweet Home were killed Friday night in separate accidents.
Miser was a passenger in a vehicle which crashed about 20 miles south of Searcy on Arkansas 11. Officers identified the driver of the car as Larry Holt, 20, of Kensett. Authorities said Holt apparently lost control of the vehicle and it overturned. Miser was thrown from the car.
Collins was struck and killed
while walking along Arkansas
365 about three miles south of Little Rock. Officers said Collins was struck by a vehicle driven by Joe Henderson, 23.

Labor Group
Wants Bill Passed

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The AFL-CIO's 3rd Congressional District Committee on Political Education called Saturday for passage of a bill that would authorize officials of any governmental unit to participate in collective bargaining with employ- unions.
The group adopted a resolution which said, "We do not want another Memphis in Arkansas."
Memphis Mayor Henry Loeb III has refused to bargain with his city's striking garbage workers on grounds that he is not authorized to do so. It was while he was in Memphis to lead a peaceful demonstration in behalf of the strikers that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was shot down.
Neither Tennessee nor Arkansas has specific state legislation authorizing collective bargaining between governmental officials and their employees.
About 100 persons attended the district COPE organizational meeting, which will screen congressional candidates and make recommendations to the state AFL-CIO.
Their resolution praised Dr. King as a "martyr to the cause of organized labor and a champion of the poor and underprivileged."
It also said, "We call on our congressmen and senators to support legislation that will insure equal opportunity for all citizens in every phase of our American way of life. The time for talk is over. Our state and our country must act now to achieve economic and social justice for all people."

HURON, S.D. (AP) — William P. Mahone, 74, one of about 15 Negroes living in this central South Dakota city of 15,000, has been unanimously elected commander of the Huron American Legion Post.

Pittsburgh police.
Both Craig and Lt. Col. Joseph Dussla, deputy commissioner of state police, pointed out that there had been relative calm in the predawn hours today.
Craig said the violence followed a "pattern of individually inclined hoodlums." He said there was no indication of prodding by agitators or outside organizations.
Earlier in the night, gangs of vandals pitched firebombs and stormed liquor stores. A lumber yard burned down in the Strip District, adjacent to the troubled Hill District.
Twenty-four have died in the trouble which struck more than a dozen U.S. cities. In addition, more than 1,200 have been injured and almost 6,000 arrested.
While the violence in most of the major cities ebbed, trouble struck again in Nashville, Tenn. Only hours after segments of the 4,000 National Guardsmen were on duty, the ROTC building on the campus of Tennessee A&I State University, site of recent racial violence, was destroyed by fire Sunday night. Police said it appeared to be the work of arsonists.
Violence in Baltimore broke out Saturday and threatened to spread Sunday into Baltimore County, causing Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew to call in federal troops.
Almost 2,000 soldiers rushed to the city to aid 6,000 National Guardsmen, and shortly after midnight officials said the situation seemed to be under control.
Four persons were killed in the violence and more than 300 injured. One official said there had been 420 fires set, 550 stores looted and more than 1,350 persons arrested.
More than 1,800 National Guardsmen marched into Pittsburgh's predominantly Negro Hill District Sunday night, but by early today a state police official said "things are settling down."
Scattered firebombings and looting were reported far into the night, but the frequency dropped sharply about three hours after a 7 p.m. curfew went into effect. The streets were almost deserted by late evening.
The shaky calm in Chicago and the nation's capital was being enforced by 32,000 Army troops and National Guardsmen.
Cyrus Vance, President Johnson's riot troubleshooter in Washington, said shortly before midnight: "The city appears to be experiencing another night of relative calm. We are not yet out of the woods, but I am hopeful the encouraging trend will continue."
Washington Mayor Walter E. Washington announced a series of emergency measures to "meet the human needs." Long lines formed outside the few open supermarkets and community groups collected food for meals and tried to find ways to provide cash for families left penniless by the disaster.
The violence left six dead and the death toll may rise to eight if two other deaths are ruled riot-connected. Almost 1,000 persons were injured, more than 4,000 were arrested and more than 750 fires were set.
Residents of Chicago, where nine persons died in a wave of violence, burning and looting, also tried to resume normal life. More than 300 persons were homeless, however, and a serious food shortage was expected

Organized Religion
Called Dead

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Dr. James Kavanaugh, the former Roman Catholic priest who criticized the church as being outdated and married a nurse, said here Sunday that organized religion was pretty much dead.
"It's a pity it has to die," Kavanaugh said. "We'll miss it."
Kavanaugh, who made the remarks at a public lecture, said he was not sure the current generation of college-age students would miss organized religion.
"But for many of us the church has been a nostalgic subculture," he said.
Kavanaugh said he did not think united church groups and "store-front" churches would bring more relevance to religion.
"When you unite irrelevance, you still get irrelevance," he said. "As for the store-front churches, as a church implies creed and code. Why don't you call it a community? A community takes you like you are."

dead through the back entrance of the main cemetery.
Back door treatment can no longer be tolerated by Negroes, said the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, taking up the leadership of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.
"In losing Dr. King, the black people have made the greatest sacrifice in their history," he said. "Such a loss can only be redeemed by a social gain of the same magnitude."
"White America has the opportunity to rise to greatness at this moment by burying hesitation and delay, by properly honoring the most moral man of this century, by liberating black Americans and all the poor, black and white."
He and 88 others planned to fly to Memphis to support striking garbage workers, who were being backed by King when he was assassinated Thursday night by a sniper. He said Mrs. King would be in the party although she later told newsmen her plans still were tentative.
Dozens of other followers of King were grappling with problems of feeding, housing and transporting his admirers who started converging on Atlanta Sunday.
Private homes and churches were opened to take in those who could not find or afford lodging in this Georgia city that was readying itself for up to 100,000 visiting mourners.
Officials of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which King formed, said they expected President Johnson or Vice President Humphrey for the funeral. A source close to the White House said it was doubtful the President would be able to attend.

The U.S. commander in Vietnam, soon to return to Washington to become Army chief of staff, ruled out any questions because of what he called the sensitive nature of events.
The White House later said Westmoreland was referring to tentative moves being made by both the United States and North Vietnam toward possible negotiations.
Possible negotiations with North Vietnam were a major topic of discussion in the White

British Plane
Carrying 131
Is Down

LONDON (AP) — A British jetliner with 131 passenger plus crew dropped an engine on take-off from London today and crashed in flames. An airline spokesman said everyone on board survived.
The plane was a Boeing 707 of the British Overseas Airways Corp. headed for Zurich en route to Australia and New Zealand.
A BOAC spokesman said several persons aboard the aircraft were injured but the number was not immediately determined.
Airport authorities said that two minutes after the BOAC Jet's takeoff the pilot, Capt. Charles Taylor, radioed that a port engine had fallen off.
He turned to make an emergency landing without crossing the airport perimeter and crashed in flames on the airport's No. 5 runway.
The plane made a left turn and as it hit the runway its port wing fell off.
Witnesses said scores of people jumped from the plane within seconds of the crash.
Black smoke poured from the aircraft as it twisted into its attempt at an emergency landing.
The plane was a complete wreck, airport workers said.

After the director's comments on music periods, from Early Classical to Modern, Bill and Bob Arterbury, Ken Allen, Jim-my Langston, Jackie Easterling, Becky Huff, and Melody Kyler illustrated the periods with solos and ensembles using flute, alto sax, cornet, and trumpet. The soloists were accompanied by Mrs. Keyton at the piano.

The president, Mrs. Mary Nell Turner, appointed a scholarship committee and heard a report from the nominating committee. The following slate of officers for next year was accepted un-animously: president, Mrs. Edith Brown; first vice-president, Mrs. Margaret Medders; second vice-president, Mrs. Pal Whit-marsh; recording secretary, Miss Mary Roy Moses; corres-ponding secretary, Mrs. Bobbie Rae Brown; treasurer, Mrs. Marie Holt; parliamentarian, Mrs. Mary Nell Turner.

To close the meeting all joined in singing "The Delta Kappa Gamma Song." Upon their arrival the 25 members, performers and guest, Miss Doris Thomas, were served pie and coffee by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Helen Hays.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sel-dom since "Citizen Kane" has a major film been so identified as the work of one man as has "2001: A Space Odyssey." To al-lay any doubt about who is re-sponsible, the name of Stanley Kubrick appears repeatedly in the credits.

Kubrick rose fast in the film world. As the result of his direc-tion of a quickie crime movie, "The Killing," he caught the attention of Kirk Douglas. Ku-brick directed the actor in a haunting antiwar film, "Paths of Glory," and a pretentious, un-realized epic, "Spartacus."

The director then dipped into black comedy with a some-what censored "Lolita" (Imag-ine if it were filmed today) and the wild, wooly "Dr. Strag-love."

Next Kubrick was given vir-tual carte blanche by MGM to create the definitive space epic. He worked at his own pace. When I visited England in early summer of 1966, Keir Dullea and Gary Lockwood were fin-ishing their starring roles. Not until this month was "2001: A Space Odyssey" premiered in New York and Hollywood. The reported cost: $9 million, more than $2 million over budget.

From a purely technical stand-point, the expense and the de-lay seem worth it. Never have space travel and the magnifi-cence of space been portrayed with such convincing detail as in this Cinerama film.

But in other respects, "2001" is a maddening riddle. One in-sider said at the premiere: "I've seen it three times, and I still don't know what it's all about." Most of the other first-nighters were equally puzzled.

The film opens with a se-quence entitled "The Origin of Man." Groups of primates (Mid-gets in monkey suits?) scrounge for food, then show the first signs of aggression by fussing over the use of a water hole. In time a monolithic black slab appears out of the earth. The monkeys finger it with wonder, and their puzzlement is nothing to the filmgoer's as this well-formed slab recurs in the film, usually with frightening results.

Obviously the monolith is a symbol. But of What? Moral force? Kubrick doesn't take us into his confidence.

In space "2001" flies best. The milk-white interiors of the crafts, the permanent weight-lessness, the cool precision of the computer-brains these ele-ments combine to depict space adventure in the next century with remarkable reality.

FEMININE INTUITION NOT ALWAYS RIGHT

Dear Helen: We have been happily married for 25 years and have always shared and en-joyed things together. Our two children are grown and gone. I have never had any cause for doubt until lately. Our son, his wife and tiny baby have been coming to stay with us week-ends. I'm a light sleeper. Twice when our daughter-in-law got up with the baby, I could also hear my husband get up. I sense there is more to it than this. I asked him if he had ever kissed her in an unfatherly way, and he brushed it off. Then I asked her if he ever made advances to her, and she said not in the way I thought. Well, how did she know which way I was thinking, unless she was guilty? They certainly act very friendly.

My husband looks at her with glances like a lovesick teen-ager. He says he still loves me; and the "smooching" has stopped since I called them on it. But then I don't give them any chance any more.

I lie awake nights and worry. My husband doesn't seem the same. It's as though he were forcing himself to treat me as usual, but his heart isn't in it. I hate to see our son and fam-ily come, and I'm so nervous while they're here I want to scream. How can I get my hus-band back where he belongs?—NO VERY HAPPY WIFE

Dear NVHW: By making your-self admit that sometimes "fem-inine intuition" is nothing more than an overactive imagination. If your husband "doesn't seem the same" it's because your sus-picions have turned you into a dif-ferent woman.

Any normal man perks up when a pretty girl accepts him as a "nice guy." Smile and agree with her, and you'll soon be back to your old relationship.—H.

Dear Helen: My wife! She is so hung up on free offers, that every time she gets a pack-age of breakfast food, she saves the box top, just in case they'll come up with something she wants. She has a drawer full of box tops she probably will never use.

And the cans! Half of them don't have labels because she has torn them off to send for free offers. I opened a can of cat food the other day, thinking it was people-type tuna. All I could go on was the size of the bare can. I don't recommend it in sandwiches!

Will you please print this so I, and other beleaguered husbands can tape it above the sink?—TIRED OF GUESSING

Dear TOG: Done.

Why don't you try your wife a black marking pencil—the kind that works on metal? Then she can re-label as she de-labels cans.

Note to wives: Men just don't understand, do they? So humor 'em whenever possible.—H.

Dear Helen: I like my neigh-bor, but not constantly. She doesn't get along with her hus-band very well, so she and her baby are over here from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. She even invites herself on my shopping sprees when I'd enjoy being unhampered. I have plenty to keep me busy, what with a small baby and house-work, but there she sits, talk, talk, talking, mostly about her problems. I'd like to tell her most of them would dissolve if she'd stay home and try being a wife. Should I?—TIRED OF A PESTY NEIGHBOR

Dear Tired: Why not? You have nothing to lose but a pest.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing ex-periences. Address Helen Bittel in care of The Hope Star.

Competition in Olympics Is Tougher

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — U.S. Olympic basketball Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State feels foreign competition will be plenty rough and might tall.

A 12-man U.S. team was named Sunday, banking more on quickness than on size.

The Olympic trials ended Saturday night with the NAIA All-Stars whipping a cold-shooting AAU team 64-59 in the title game. More than 80 players were considered in the three-day tournament in Albuquerque.

A 45-man committee picked this team:

NAIA—Glynn Saulters, 6-foot-2, 175 pounds, Northeast Louisiana; Don Dee, 6-7, 205, St. Mary of the Plains, Kan.

AAU—Calvin Fowler, 6-1, 170, Akron, Ohio, Goodyear; James King, 6-7, Goodyear.

Junior College All-Stars—Spencer Haywood, 6-8, 230, Trinidad, Colo., Junior College.

Armed Forces—Mike Barrett, 6-2, 155, U.S. Navy and former West Virginia Tech collegian; John R. Clawson, 6-4, 200, U.S. Army and Michigan; Mike Sullivan, 6-6, 225, U.S. Army and U.S. Military Academy.

NCAA—Ken Spain, 6-9, 225, Houston; Jo Jo White, 6-3, 194, Kansas; Bill Hoskett, 6-7, 228, Ohio State, Charlotte Scott, 6-4, 180, North Carolina.

Alternates—Don Isseel, Kentucky, Tom Black, Goodyear, George Carter, U.S. Army; Charles Paulk, Northeastern Oklahoma; Rick Mount, Purdue; and Joe Hamilton, Southwest Christian, Tex.

Iba said the 12 first-team selections will gather at Alamosa, Colo., in early September and four weeks of high-altitude training before exhibition games against professional teams in New York's Madison Square Garden, Cincinnati and possibly Albuquerque.

Hockey Teams Get a Little Respite

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An unscheduled respite has given six National Hockey League playoff contenders more time to brace themselves for the next collision.

Meanwhile, Boston's dazed Bruins, whose first postseason trip in nine years has been on schedule but off course, spent a regular day off trying to put themselves back together again for another shot at the high-flying Montreal Canadiens.

Three first-round games in the expanded Stanley Cup playoffs have been rescheduled in the aftermath of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King. The second game of the New York Rangers-Chicago Black Hawks series, originally set for Sunday in New York, was moved back to Tuesday night. The Rangers put off the game, which was to have been nationally televised, after Sunday was designated as a day of national mourning for the slain civil rights leader.

Third games of the Philadelphia Flyers-St. Louis Blues and Los Angeles Kings-Minnesota North Stars sets were moved back from Monday night. The Kings, who lead Minnesota 2-0 in their best against the North Stars Tuesday night, The Flyers visit St. Louis Wednesday night to resume a series

Athletic Activity at Standstill

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Athletic activity continued at a virtual standstill today as the sports community joined the rest of the nation in mourning the death of Dr. Martin Luther King.

The funeral for the slain civil rights leader will be held Tuesday in Atlanta, and few sports events will be held until after the services.

Exceptions included the final two rounds of the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament set for today, an International Hockey League playoff at Muskegon, Mich., and an American Hockey League playoff at Providence, R.I., tonight. Some horse racing also was on tap.

The Greensboro Open already has been postponed twice—Friday because of rain and Sunday in deference to the memory of Dr. King.

The Los Angeles Dodgers said they would decide today on whether to postpone their National League baseball opener at home Tuesday night against Philadelphia. The Phillies have said they will not play, at the risk of forfeiture and fine.

The other 18 major league clubs will open the season Wednesday. Three games, including the presidential opener in Washington, originally were scheduled today. Six had been set for Tuesday.

All of the final baseball exhibition games Sunday were canceled with the exception of the Cleveland-Los Angeles game at San Diego, Calif.

There was no action Sunday in major league hockey and basketball.

The National Hockey League playoffs resume Tuesday night with Chicago at Boston and Los Angeles at Minnesota. Philadelphia plays at St. Louis Wednesday night.

The American Basketball Association playoffs get under way again Tuesday night with New Orleans at Dallas. Pittsburgh is at Minnesota Wednesday.

Postseason play in the National Basketball Association resumes with Philadelphia at Boston and San Francisco at Los Angeles Wednesday night.

Lawn Tennis Ready to Take Bids

DALLAS (AAP)—The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association is ready to receive bids for four open tournaments, including the National Open.

The association, meeting in Dallas over the weekend, agreed to go along with recommendations made earlier this month by the International Lawn Tennis Federation that major tennis nations hold only four open events this year. Professionals will compete against amateurs.

Robert Kelleher of Los Angeles, president of the association, and eight other members of a committee will decide where the four meets are to be held.

Kelleher said as many as a dozen cities have indicated interest in staging either the national open or one of the other tournaments.

Texas Relays Produce Some Hopefuls

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Relays, in which Texas led the university division and Southern topped the college class, didn't produce as many outstanding individuals as usual. But still there were some mighty bright Olympic prospects.

A couple of them already had appeared in the Olympic Games — Randy Matson, the Texas A&M giant who holds the world's record in the shot put at 71 feet 5 1/2 inches and was second in the 1964 games at Tokyo, and Billy Mills, former Kansas star who won the 10,000 meters.

Matson, who has been resting up from the winter track wars, admitted he wasn't ready to try for a record and that 66 feet would suit him in the Texas Relays. He did better than that, heaving the 16-pound ball 66 feet 5 1/2 inches in an exhibition.

Mills won a six-mile race in 28:53.3. That delighted him that he could make such good time this early. He seemed ready to go to the Olympics at Mexico City in October.

The war of the Roses lasted for 30 years. 1455-85.

Opening of Baseball Play Is Doubtful

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Philadelphia Phillies were caught in a rundown between Walter O'Malley and Warren Giles today as the Los Angeles Dodgers considered opening the 1968 baseball season all by themselves.

Los Angeles owner O'Malley was to decide today whether or not to go ahead with Tuesday night's scheduled home opener against Philadelphia—a game the Phillies have refused to play.

The Dodgers were left holding the ball Sunday when the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago White Sox pushed back their Tuesday openers one day, joining seven other major league clubs which had postponed opening home games in deference to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Funeral services for the slain civil rights leader will be held Tuesday in Atlanta.

National League President Giles left it up to the Dodgers, as the home club, to decide whether to go through with their game.

John Quinn, the Phillies' general manager, said earlier his club would not take the field at Los Angeles Tuesday night, at the risk of a possible forfeit and fine—because of the King funeral that afternoon.

The other opening games in each league, including the presidential fixture at Washington, all were set for Wednesday.

President Johnson was expected to miss the Senators' debut against the Minnesota Twins—one of five afternoon openers in the American League. The White Sox entertain Cleveland, Boston's defending champions are at Detroit, the new Oakland Athletics at Baltimore and California at New York in other AL inaugurals.

The Chicago Cubs visit Cincinnati and the New York Mets are at San Francisco in National League afternoon games. Pittsburgh is at Houston and Atlanta at St. Louis under the lights.

While O'Malley and Bavasi pondered the possibility of opening the season without an opponent, LA Manager Walter Alston checked into an Ingleswood, Calif., hospital Sunday for treatment of a kidney stone and the Dodgers whipped Cleveland 5-1 in the lone exhibition finale.

All the other exhibition games were canceled in line with the designation of Sunday as a day of mourning for Dr. King.

A Dodgers team physician said Alston, beginning his 15th season as dean of major league managers, has a stone in the right kidney. "As soon as it passes we'll let him go," said Dr. Robert Woods. He said doctors might use a tube to remove the stone if it had not passed today.

Retriever Named Best in Snow

CHICAGO (AP) — Ch. Shamrock's Acres Light Brigade, a 3-year-old Labrador retriever, was named best in show Sunday night at the annual International Dog Show, Owned by Mrs. James Gets of Lake Forest, Ill., Light Brigade is the first retriever to win the Chicago event.

Former Boxer Dies at 63

WESTFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Ruby Bradley, who fought Midweight Wogast for the world flyweight boxing title in Brooklyn July 13, 1931, died Saturday. Bradley, 63, lost a 15-round decision to the champion.

Jimmy Clark, Fights Last Night, Racing King, Is Killed

HOCKENHEIM, Germany (AP) — The auto racing world paid tribute today to Jim Clark, who was killed in a crash Sunday.

The 32-year-old Scot, winner of the Indianapolis 500 in 1965 and twice world driving champion, met death in the rain at the Hockenheim Motodrom when his Lotus Ford Cosworth skidded on wet asphalt.

His car, speeding along at 174 miles per hour, tore through a fence and hit a tree after turning over several times. Doctors at the nearby Heidelberg Hospital, where he was pronounced dead, said he had been killed instantly from a broken neck and a compound fracture of the skull.

A bachelor, Clark won a record 25 Grand Prix races and was the world champion in 1963 and 1965. Three of his Grand Prix victories came in the U.S. Grand Prix at Watkins Glen, N.Y., the last one in 1967. He set a record by winning seven Grand Prix races in a row in 1963.

"Jim Clark may well have been the greatest driver of all time," said Wilfred Andrews, chairman of the Royal Automobile Club in London.

"Clark was unquestionably the greatest racing driver in the world," said Andy Granatelli in Indianapolis. Granatelli is president of the company which sponsored Clark's Lotus cars in 1966 and 1967 and for whom Clark was to have driven in the Indy 500 this year.

Clark's body will be flown to Edinburgh, Scotland, where the funeral will be held Wednesday.

Jim Bryan Is Winner at Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Bobby Unser, Albuquerque, N.M., sped through a flaming pileup to capture the Jimmy Bryan 150-mile U.S. Auto Club race at Phoenix International Raceway.

Unser, driving a turbo-charged, rear-engine Offenhauser, averaged just over 100 miles per hour to win the Sunday race, after setting a one-lap qualifying record of 124.059 m.p.h. It was Unser's second victory in a row.

Unser took the lead from Roger McCluskey of Tucson, whose car was one of four put out of action in a flaming crash on the 46th lap in which Johnny Rutherford, Fort Worth, Tex., was burned.

The accident was touched off when Al Unser, the winner's brother, had the engine of his car blow up, throwing oil across the track. Bobby Unser narrowly avoided the resulting pileup. McCluskey, Rutherford and Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., skidded on the slippery surface and crashed into the upper wall, with the Rutherford and Andretti machines bursting into flames.

Rutherford, who suffered burned feet and a burned right hand, was saved from further injury by A. J. Foyt, defending USAC champ who rushed to Rutherford's burning car and pulled him from the cockpit. Rutherford's injuries were not believed serious.

Master Paid Off for Gay

AUGUSTA, Ga.—(NEA)—Until he went to the Masters Tournament last year, David Wits didn't have the faintest conception how lucrative it could be to hit a golf ball.

Then Gay Brewer Jr., who has the cherubic face of a miniature Babe Ruth and the loop-de-loop swing of a weekend hacker, won the 1967 Masters. And a revelation came to David Wits. He is a Dallas lawyer and Brewer's business manager. He had never even seen a golf tournament until the long green of Augusta National.

In succession, this is what happened thereafter:

- Gay Brewer became the exclusive representative for the National Association of Insurance Agents on ABC's Golf Galaxy (13 tournaments), with a three-year contract to appear in their television commercials.

- He made a record for Decca, a 33's lp called "How to Give Your Golf Game the Master's Touch."
- Rand-McNally and Golf Digest, in collaboration, have published a book, "Gay Brewer Shows You How to Score Better than You Swing."

- McGraw-Hill has published "Gay Brewer's Golf Guidebook."

- There is now a Gay Brewer Swingmaster Golf Shirt, with a logo of a little golfer looping his swing, manufactured by Knitco.

- Brewer is on the cover of the 1968 edition of Golf Guide, with a merchandising tieup for the guide.
- The American Oil Co. has sent out a mailing of 5 million, featuring Gay in the winner's circle, for a new marketing game. There will be 15 million more pictures of Gay himself in the game.

- Wits and Brewer have syndicated a radio program called "Fee It Up" in which Gay offers golf tips. ("He has a resonant voice," says the lawyer.)

- Brewer has signed a new contract with Dunlop endorsing their golf balls.

- His exhibition fees, which were practically nil, have a representative for the vast Kaiser Industries.

"All this," admits Wits, "is directly due to his victory in the Masters. It opened up tremendous vistas."

Gay did turn down a lucrative offer to be the playing pro for a foreign golf club "because he simply didn't like the course."

"You know how much of a purist Gay is," says Wits, "about golf."

There is a dramatic story behind Brewer's surge to solvency in and after the Masters. For almost a decade, the snub-nosed pro was just another joker on the tour, picking up the scratch after the big boys (like Palmer, Nicklaus, Casper) took the big cut.

He lived in an apartment in Dallas, with Carol Lee and their two little girls, Erin and Kelly. Kelly, who's now 3, was born with a leg impediment—the bone wasn't properly set into the hip socket—and needed a series of operations. Her condition affected Gay's concentration on golf. Surgery before the Masters was a success and brightened Gay's attitude toward the tournament, which he'd lost the previous year in a three-way playoff.

Now Gay lives in a big, new home in Dallas and is big society there.

His Masters victory has made him a hero for every young golfer who tackles the tour and meets initial frustration. It hasn't exactly hurt him with Wits, who never swung a golf club in his life until he met Brewer.

Mark McCormick, the Cleveland lawyer who steered Palmer and Nicklaus to fortunes off golf, has said a victory in the Masters is worth a cool million.

"I won't deny it," says Wits.

And he'll be here at Augusta National tramping along behind Gay Brewer Jr. when that worthy defends his championship. Which leads us to an irresistible point—every golfer should have his Wits about him.

Bennett says when the crucial putts need to be dropped, the pressure on the caddies is almost as much as on the players. They use body English and coaxing words as the ball rolls for the cup. Such loyalties are not always appreciated by the golfers, however.

In last year's National Open, Rives McBee ran through six caddies in two days.

Beale wins 1 Toledo Race

ROSSBURG, Ohio (AP) — Rolfe Beale of Toledo, driving a Chevrolet-powered car, won the 30-lap USAC spring car auto race Sunday at the half-mile Eldora Speedway.

Comeback Comes Up 'Roses'

By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The man pulls the woman close and says "I want things right between us."

She says "You think this is going to make them right?" He begins to unbutton her dress saying, "We have to start some place."

She breaks away in rage and screams, "Start? That's not my idea of a start."

They are in the living room of a Bronx apartment furnished in shabby genteel. The living room is in a movie studio on the West Side of Manhattan in the belly dance district. The man is Jack Albertson and the woman is Patricia Neal.

It is an intensely dramatic scene for the MGM release, "The Subject Was Roses," and after a particularly good take the crew breaks into spontaneous applause. Three years after a series of crippling strokes, and after a lot of self-doubts, Patricia Neal is acting again, and she is still magnificent.

"I don't memorize lines as well as I did," she says, "but I think I act as well as I did. I was such an idiot for awhile. I just got to the stage where I could read, but I had no idea what a play was about."

In three years, she has had

PATRICIA NEAL
Still magnificent to learn the things we spend a lifetime learning, beginning with walking, talking and reading. Today she looks as she always did, warm, strong yet very feminine, and her voice still has that memorable huskiness. Her humor is still there. She has not a bit of sympathy for herself, but she seems warmer than ever because there is now a vulnerability surrounding her.

Ulu Grosbard, who directed the Broadway production of the excellent Frank Gilroy play, is making his motion picture debut with this film. He admits casting Pat Neal was a gamble.

"We were all jumping into the unknown. But at the first reading of the script, I knew it was right. Just from talking to her during our first interview in England, I knew it would be right. Until then we had no idea what shape she was in. We found her with a full range of emotions and access to memory."

Grosbard continued, "She's fantastic and you can quote me without reservations. She is an extraordinary actress with such a marvelous range of emotions from humor to the depth of sorrow. She is so subtle she can play from a subdued note to wild and open anger, as she does in this scene today, with free emotion."

Because of her problems with memory (and she is very apologetic when she forgets a line, but she can also be very angry—with herself—if she forgets too often), additional takes are necessary for the long master shots.

"But I would rather do six extra takes with her," Grosbard said, "and get what she gives than use someone else who couldn't approach her range in 72 takes."

"When she first began work, she kept saying, 'I'm only doing this because my husband wants me to.' I don't think she feels that way any more."

Indeed she doesn't. Sitting in her dressing room, with three plastic red roses on the door, she recalls that, when she arrived here to begin rehearsal, she was very apprehensive. "I thought I would be anxious to get back, but I'm not," she said then. "I love it," she says now.

Is she looking for another picture? "No, I am not," she says with great emphasis. "But if one comes along, I'll do it. Lucy, my youngest daughter, who was born six months after my stroke, doesn't understand why I'm away from home and she is restless. Also, Tess will be 11 on April 11 and I'm leaving on the 10th so I can be there."

Her husband, Roald Dahl, has been in New York visiting briefly. "We have been going out so much, I'll be glad when he goes home so I can get some rest."

"She adores him and gives him credit for everything," Carol Gustafson, her stand-in, said.

"I think she gives her husband credit for too much," someone else connected with the production said. "His encouragement could hardly lead to successful childbirth in that condition."

It's one of life's little ironies that Miss Gustafson is working as Pat's stand-in. A good actress in her own right, she was Pat's understudy 20 years ago in "Another Part of the Forest," the play that brought Miss Neal stardom.

"When I walked in the door here I was about to say, 'I don't know if you remember me,' when she said 'Carol.' It brought tears to my eyes. She remembered so much about the past, things I had forgotten, like jokes we pulled on Jean Hagen and Margaret Phillips who were in the cast."

Oswald: "I suppose that I have reached the age where it is time to start viewing some modern bidding tendencies with alarm."

Jim: "If you are going to blame the younger generation for bids such as West's weak take-out double of one diamond, you are getting old. Didn't people make weak take-out doubles 30 years ago?"

Oswald: "Yes, they did! And I've made my share. But in general my weak take-out doubles had more distribution to back them up than West's 4-4-3-2."

Jim: "This weak one really worked in unexpected fashion. If West had passed, South would have become declarer at three no-trump without any opposition. West would probably have opened his fourth best heart or spade and South would have had time to set up two heart tricks and make his three no-trump. However, the double and North's redouble gave East an opportunity to bid two clubs. He could have been doubled and set two tricks, but no one had a double and South arrived at the same three no-trump."

Oswald: "West opened the three of clubs, and if East had blindly played third hand high we would have had no column. The club suit would never come in, and South would make four no-trump. But East played his nine spade. South won with the queen to try to give the impression that he held king-queen-small instead of queen-jack-small. Then he led his deuce of hearts."

Jim: "The play might have worked, but West studied awhile and saw that South would almost surely run off nine tricks if he could get in one heart. West rose with the ace, played ace and another club, and East's club suit completed the job of beating the contract."

Oswald: "Nothing too brilliant, but as workmanlike an operation as possible."

THE WELL CHILD

Defective Hearing Hard to Detect in Child

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Many a child who does poorly in school is thought to be mentally retarded or of low intelligence when the cause of the trouble is not in the brain but is poor vision or hearing. Testing for these defects, however, should never be deferred until the child has started school. Last week I briefly discussed a common visual defect. Defective hearing is even harder to detect than poor vision but new techniques are making it possible to test the hearing in early infancy. This is done by observing the brain waves in an electroencephalogram as sounds are delivered to each of the child's ears separately through ear phones.

A mother should suspect that her child does not hear normally if he fails to say recognizable words by the age of 18 months; if he is not startled by a sudden loud noise; if he cannot be soothed by hearing his mother's voice without seeing her; or if he prefers to play quietly by himself.

As soon as there is the slightest suspicion of defective hearing your child should be examined by a physician and if his hearing is found to be subnormal he should be placed under expert care. The earlier corrective measures are started the better the results will be.

Q—Can a child catch any type of worms from playing with dogs or cats?

A—Although the belief that pets spread intestinal worms to people is common, there is no evidence that they do and much evidence that they do not.

NKOMO ISOLATION CLAIMED

BULAWAYO, Rhodesia (AP) — Black nationalist leader Joshua Nkomo and four of his assistants have been isolated from other detainees in a separate camp, his wife said.

"My husband and the four men are apparently regarded as most dangerous restrictives," said Mrs. Johanna Nkomo.

Nkomo was restricted by Rhodesia's ruling whites in 1964. Mrs. Nkomo said she has not been allowed to see her husband since October 1966 and receives no acknowledgment of her requests to visit him.

Nkomo and his aides are now in the remote Gonakudzingwa Restriction Center in southeast Rhodesia, she said.

Civil Rights Bill Passage Urged by LBJ

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has dispatched urgent appeals to congressional leaders for swift passage of his civil rights bill.

The new pleas for legislative speed were disclosed by government officials Sunday night just after Johnson ordered 2,000 Army regulars to Baltimore. Washington was quieting with 11,600 troopers in her streets; 5,000 more patrolled Chicago.

There were signs that Congress, jarred by the looting, burning and violence almost on its doorstep, would heed Johnson's plea and seek House action this week on the Senate-passed civil rights bill.

House Republican Leader Gerald Ford indicated he might drop his opposition to an early vote, but made no promise. He guaranteed only that he would make an early decision.

Johnson flew over the still-smoking ruins of the capital's burned-out inner-city areas late Sunday in a helicopter. With him was Gen. William C. Westmoreland. The American commander in Vietnam, who spent almost two days conferring with Johnson and high presidential advisers before starting the trip back to Saigon.

Ford was one of a number of congressional leaders, it was learned, to whom Johnson sent letters urging prompt action on the civil rights bill and its hotly debated open-housing provisions.

House Democratic Leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma was another. Previously made public was a letter to House Speaker John W. McCormack in which Johnson termed the rights bill "the most immediate" of "the many actions Congress can take."

His letters also asked prompt passage of two other bills aimed at easing slum tensions and dealing with the disorders which reached a crescendo after the assassination in Memphis of Dr. Martin Luther King, Negro apostle of nonviolence.

One was the omnibus housing bill, with its long-term goal of 10 million low-income dwellings. The other was an anticrime bill, stalled since last session.

Ford said he favors the rights bill but has insisted that it be worked over in a House-Senate conference committee, to remove what he considers defects, before the House acts.

Military Has 20,000 Troops Against Riots and More Available

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army, which has thrown nearly 20,000 regular troops into the battle against riots in U.S. cities, has another 22,000 ready to go.

These comprise 11 brigades in varying states of alert, most prepared to move out on one-hour notice. Pentagon sources said.

Some of them are specially organized provisional brigades made up of engineers, artillerymen and other combat and combat-support troops.

But, like infantrymen and paratroopers, they have received riot control training.

The sources said still more brigades are being formed in anticipation of possible need.

Air Force transports have been posted strategically around the country, awaiting call.

In this connection, no Air Force troop-carrier units have been called up or placed on ex-

Indiana Blast Leaves 39 Persons Dead and 33 Others Missing

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Weary searchers continue today tugging at the wreckage of buildings shattered by an explosion which struck the business area as shoppers crowded streets and shops.

Thirty-nine bodies had been recovered and 33 other persons were reported missing.

Fire followed the Saturday explosion in this eastern Indiana city and spread to adjacent buildings. Three buildings were destroyed and five damaged severely in a two-block area. Windows were shattered for blocks around.

More than 100 persons were injured. Eighteen remained in hospitals today, three in critical condition.

State police said the blast erupted in the basement of Marting Arms Co., a sporting goods store where gunpowder was stored for hunters and skeet shooters. Richmond Fire Marshal Fred Klotz said a large shipment of gunpowder reportedly was delivered to the store recently.

FBI agents said they were investigating the possibility of a gas leak as a factor in the explosion.

"It seemed like somebody pulled the whole world out from under me," said Leo Collins, who was walking near the Marting store. Collins was knocked down but escaped injury.

Capt. Kenneth E. Paust of the Indiana National Guard said the ceiling of a restaurant where he was having lunch began falling on customers.

"I ran into the street and saw an injured woman atop Sergeant's paint store," Paust said. "I got a ladder and with the aid of others got her down. She said she had been blown onto the roof by the explosion."

Only a crater remained where the sporting goods store stood at the Sixth and Main Streets. Neighboring buildings were torn apart. Flames damaged other buildings.

Some of the dead and injured were trapped in cars demolished by the blast and falling debris. One car was hurled 50 feet. Officials said more than 100 vehicles were demolished.

Several hundred volunteers joined police, firemen and National Guardsmen searching the rubble. Many of the dead were burned or mutilated. Bodies were taken to the temporary morgue in the armory of this city of 44,000 on the Ohio line.

74 Persons Placed in Work Here
Teddy Jones, Manager of the Hope Office of the Employment Security Division, said today that 74 persons were hired by area employers during the month of March. This was slightly above the March 1967 figure.

The local office received 149 new applications for work during the month. This is 162 less than was received in February when 311 applications were filed. The February rise was due to the closing of Plaswood, Inc. which reopened April 1.

The closing of Plaswood along with unfavorable weather caused an increase in unemployment insurance initial claims during February when 247 new claims were filed. This figure dropped to 99 during March.

March figures show that there were 348 persons in the four county area of Hempstead, Howard, Nevada and Lafayette filing continued claims against wage credits in other states.

Mr. Jones indicated that there was an approximate 10 per cent increase in unemployment in the Hope area during the latter part of '67 and the first quarter of '68 over comparable figures of a year ago.

Full employment and favorable construction weather are expected to drop the unemployment figure even lower during April.

Mr. Jones reminded local industrial and retail employers to contact the local office when in need of assistance in filling job openings. He further indicated that many out-of-school youth would be seeking summer employment in order to be able to return to school. "We need the help of every employer in the area and are asking that each employer survey his summer employment to determine whether or not he can employ one, or more, of these worthwhile young people."

Cities Value of Education
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Education is more basic to the solution of the problems of the underprivileged than employment according to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Rockefeller made the comment Saturday and said it is not enough to call on the private sector to create jobs and help with training programs.

"The more basic question is in the field of education, not in employment," Rockefeller said. "Because employment without adequate education and orientation is doomed to fail."

Wife Held in Mate's Slaying
EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Margaret Steele, 29, of Callon (Union County), was being held today in connection with the slaying of her husband Saturday evening.

Authorities said Charles Douglas Steele, 37, died of a .22-caliber gunshot wound in the upper chest. They said he was shot at his home on U.S. 187, about 13 miles north of here.

Mrs. Steele's bond was set at $5,000 pending arraignment.

Thousands to March at Memphis

By BOB GILBERT
Associated Press Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Thousands of mourning Negroes and civil rights leaders marched from a grey stone church toward the ultramodern city hall today in silent tribute to the man who had planned to lead them, the slain Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The marchers walked in ranks of eight, but on the front row there was a vacant space. That was where King would have been. They stepped off at 10:16 a.m. CST.

In the front ranks were Percy Sutton, Manhattan, N.Y., borough president; Charles Cogh, president of the American Federation of Teachers; Jerry Wurf, international president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees; Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and his wife.

Many of the marchers wore black bands on their arms and carried signs identifying their organizations.

King, assassinated here Thursday, had come to Memphis to aid the strikers.

Representatives of the city and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees huddled for 18 hours with Undersecretary of Labor James Reynolds, sent here Saturday by President Johnson to mediate the dispute.

The session began at 10 a.m. Sunday and continued early today, with only a short lunch break. Mayor Henry Loeb joined the talks about 2 a.m.

However, the negotiators—with representatives of both sides shaking their heads silently—filed out of the hotel where the mediation was in progress at 6 a.m.

No time for resumption of the talks was set.

March organizers, working throughout the night, said that depending on Mrs. King's wishes, they may represent King's place in the front rank either by a vacant position, or by a young girl dressed in white and bearing a wreath.

The march has a second purpose, said the Rev. James Orange, one of King's staff members. It is to push for a settlement of the garbage workers strike that brought the Southern Christian Leadership Conference leader to Memphis in the first place.

Special Grant for Education Classroom
James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools, announced today that he had received notification from the State Department of Education that a special grant had been made to Hope School District from ESEA-A funds for the construction of a two-classroom facility to be located at Beryl Henry Elementary School to be used for special education classes.

The facility will be the same type of architecture as the existing elementary building. It will be constructed and equipped exclusively for special education classes. The Magnolia Service Center, ESEA-III, will use it as a laboratory and for teacher training, using the most modern techniques and material in the instruction of special education classes.

Construction of the building should begin by early summer to be ready for occupancy by the beginning of school in the fall.

Final Rites for Dr. King in Atlanta
By RON SPEER
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Sorrowing Americans continued their pilgrimage to the hometown of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. today. From across the nation they came, in chartered planes, by car, by bus, by train.

White, black, rich, poor, famous and unknown—they came from the tenant farms of Mississippi, strife-torn cities, Hollywood, state capitals, Congress and consulates.

They came by the thousands to pay final tribute to the civil rights leader, who will be buried Tuesday after services at Ebenezer Baptist Church, where King served as pastor with his father.

Some slept on cots in church basements. Some moved in with Atlanta families. Others found rooms at hotels.

But they came, to stay until King is laid to rest in South View Cemetery, founded in 1886 by Negroes who rebelled against the city's segregation. Negroes then had to take their PITTSBURGH (AP) — Authorities said today they believe three days of arson and looting in Pittsburgh's Hill District has been brought under control, but 3,000 National Guardsmen and 1,000 city and state police remained on duty in the Negro neighborhood.

"I would say the situation is under control," said City Safety Director David W. Craig at a news conference held at dawn. "But as to its permanency, I will have to make a decision on that later in the day."

The wave of fire bombings, window smashings and looting broke out Friday night following the Memphis assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. But it was not until Sunday that the National Guard and state troopers were moved into the Hill District to reinforce

The general flew off immediately afterward for California and briefed former President Dwight D. Eisenhower before heading for Saigon.

More Area Off Limits to Bombs

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — President Johnson has put almost 5,500 more square miles of North Vietnam off limits to American bombers, U.S. sources said today. Below the demilitarized zone, allied ground forces reported killing more than 700 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in weekend fighting.

Informed sources in Saigon said the American air forces have been told to keep their raids below the 19th Parallel, which is about 170 miles above the demilitarized zone. In the last four days U.S. bombers have struck no farther north than 160 miles above the DMZ.

Publicly, Johnson's order of March 31 setting the 20th Parallel as the northern boundary for air attacks still stands, and the sources said the President did not publicize the new curtailment because he wanted to leave open the option of bombing up to the 20th Parallel, or some 225 miles above the DMZ.

The U.S. Command in Saigon declined comment on the reported new bombing limits. In Washington, assistant White House press secretary Tom Johnson said there is no change from the March 31 order.

Although the area open to attack has been reduced, U.S. warplanes have more than doubled the pre-curtailed number of strike missions against North Vietnam's southern panhandle, mostly against enemy supply lines and convoys.

U.S. pilots flew a total of 134 missions over the North Vietnamese panhandle Sunday, the highest number in three months, since 144 were flown on Jan. 6. Military spokesmen said clearer weather, as the northeast monsoons move away, made the increase possible.

The fliers attacked North Vietnamese supply lines and gun positions, with the northernmost target an antiaircraft position 160 miles north of the demilitarized zone, the U.S. Command said.

High Court Reverses Conviction
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today reversed the Lee Circuit Court conviction of J. Ernie Gaskin on 14 counts of violating the state Securities Act.

The high court said that on the basis of the record of the trial, the state could only convict Gaskin of a misdemeanor and not a felony.

The court ordered the case back to Judge Elmo Taylor for a new trial.

Gaskin, who was defeated in the Democratic primary for Secretary of State in 1966, received $1,000 fine and one year prison sentence on each of the 14 counts.

He was charged with violating the Securities Act by selling Americana Motor Inn's Corporate stock to certain residents of Lee County with knowledge that the securities had not been registered as required by law.

The high court, in ordering the new trial, said the state may be able to prove that the securities were actually offered to more than 25 persons.

Gaskin's defense was that the stocks did not have to be registered because he obtained an exemption under the law, which provides for an exemption under certain conditions when not more than 25 persons are involved.

The Supreme Court also scheduled more arguments for next Monday in a Pulaski Chancery Court case in which Chancellor John Jernigan ruled that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller could not proceed with his ouster hearing because he obtained an exemption under the law, which provides for an exemption under certain conditions when not more than 25 persons are involved.

The Supreme Court also scheduled more arguments for next Monday in a Pulaski Chancery Court case in which Chancellor John Jernigan ruled that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller could not proceed with his ouster hearing because he obtained an exemption under the law, which provides for an exemption under certain conditions when not more than 25 persons are involved.

Rockefeller's attorneys appealed the lower court decision.

Court also will take under subdual the mission next Monday a case in which the Republican party is attempting to have 18 senators seek reelection this year in stead of the nine who definitely must run again.

Burglars hit three stores and the Post Office at Washington last night and got several thousand dollars worth of merchandise and cash. One Fulton store was hit but most of the merchandise taken was recovered.

Etter Hardware Store at Washington was entered through a back window and some $150 in tools were taken. The safe of the U.S. Post Office at Washington was pried but officers did not reveal what was taken.

Dudney's Store was entered, the safe cracked, and an estimated $1,000 in money and merchandise stolen. Also hit was Jolly Stuart's Drug Store where from $500 to $600 in money and merchandise taken.

Ina Logan's Store and station at Fulton was also entered during the night but most of the missing merchandise was found hidden in grass and weeds near the establishment. Officers speculated the thief must have been scared off before completing the robbery.

State Police Investigator Travis Ward and Sheriff Jimmie Griffin are investigating along with a U.S. Postal Inspector.

a defiant Democrat challenges the leader

Responding to anti-Vietnam war sentiment, Minnesota Democrat Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy has spoken out against President Johnson's policies, saying "party unity is not a sufficient excuse for silence." The former educator has served the last 20 years representing his state in both houses of Congress. A thinking liberal, he has authored several books in the political vein. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has called McCarthy's bid for the presidential nomination "a healthy influence on the Democratic party." There are some who say McCarthy is acting as a straw in the wind to test political climate for a Kennedy push. Testing ground will be the primaries, first of which will be in March in New Hampshire. Here in an NEA Visuals Special are highlights in McCarthy's political career.

Speak for Yourself, Gene

And the Minnesota senator is doing just that after beating the drums in prior years for his colleague, the then-Senator Hubert H. Humphrey. In 1956, above, McCarthy stumped unsuccessfully to get Humphrey nominated as vice-president to run with Adlai Stevenson on the Democratic ticket. He is seen with Stevenson's campaign manager, James Finnigan. At top right, McCarthy holds Humphrey photo in 1959 when he was cochairman of a Humphrey-for-President campaign—again unsuccessful. Humphrey and McCarthy in 1964, bottom right, were competitors for second place on the Democratic slate after Johnson ruled out any cabinet members. Humphrey won the nomination and the vice-presidency.

PREPOLITICAL McCarthy, above, was a professor at the College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn. On the campaign trail, top left, he knocked on doors and won a House seat in 1948 at age 32, running on the Democratic-Farmer-Labor ticket. Daughter Margaret was 3, bottom left, in 1958 when she congratulated daddy who moved up to the Senate after serving five terms in the House of Representatives. McCarthy established a record as a liberal and served on many important committees.

SURROUNDED by signs and well-wishers, McCarthy arrives in Minneapolis, Minn., to campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination. He told Minnesota Concerned Democrats the Vietnam war issue "must be taken to the people."

VIOLENT reaction to Dr. Martin Luther King's assassination in Memphis, Tenn., came in Harlem, New York City's Negro district. Police reported a rash of window smashing, looting and fires.

PEACEFUL demonstration in line with the late Dr. Martin Luther King's policies. A group of several hundred Negroes kneel in prayer in front of the Texas state capitol at Austin in memory of the murdered civil rights leader.

VOCAL McCarthy has sounded off against the Johnson administration, charging it wants to "stifle dissent" and seems to have no limits on price it will pay for military victory in Vietnam. He also has attacked the President's foreign policies and economic programs.

LEGAL NOTICE

CONTRACT TO CONSTRUCT BUILDINGS

NOTICE AND INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS

1. Proposals: Sealed proposals for the construction, including the furnishing of all necessary materials, machinery, labor and equipment, of the buildings listed below (hereinafter called the "Project") to be financed pursuant to a loan contract between SOUTHWEST ARKANSAS TELEPHONE COOPERATIVE, INC. (hereinafter called the "Owner") and the United States of America, by the Administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration (hereinafter called the Administrator) and designated ARKANSAS 514-F will be received by the Owner on or before 10 o'clock A.M., Central Standard Time, May 7, 1968, at its office located at Highway 71 South, Texarkana, Arkansas, (Mailing Address: P.O. Box 1169, Texarkana, Arkansas 75501) at which time and place the proposals will be publicly opened and read.

Location: Emerson, Arkansas, Columbia County, Arkansas, Washington, Arkansas, Hempstead County, Arkansas.

2. Obtaining Documents: The Plans and Specifications together with all other necessary forms and documents for bidders may be secured from F. M. Hollandsworth, Consulting Engineers at P. O. Box 308, Highway 64, Wills Point, Texas 75169 upon payment of Seven and 50-100 Dollars ($7.50) which payment will be refunded to each bona fide bidder within ten (10) days after the bid opening. Additional sets of Plans and Specifications may be obtained upon payment of Five and no-100 Dollars ($5.00) which payment will not be subject to refund. The Plans and Specifications may be examined at the office of F. M. Hollandsworth, Consulting Engineers or Southwest Arkansas Telephone Cooperative, Incorporated. A copy of the loan contract may also be examined at the office of the Owner.

3. Manner of Submitting Proposals: Proposals and all supporting documents required to be attached thereto must be submitted on the forms furnished by the Owner and must be delivered in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Owner. The name and address of the Bidder, its license number, if a license is required by the State, and the date and hour of the opening of bids must appear on the envelope in which the proposal is submitted. Proposals must be filled in in ink or typewritten. No alterations or interlinations will be permitted, unless made before submission, and initialed and dated.

4. Familiarity with Conditions: Prior to the submission of the Proposal, the Bidder shall make and shall be deemed to have made a careful examination of the site of the Project and of the Plans and Specifications, forms of Construction Proposal and Acceptance, and Contractor's bond on file with the Secretary of the Owner and with the Administrator and shall become informed as to the location and nature of the proposed construction, the transportation facilities, the kind and character of the soil and terrain to be encountered, the kind of facilities required before and during the construction of the Project, general local conditions, and all other matters that may affect the cost and the time of completion of the Project. Bidders will be required to comply with all applicable statutes, regulations, etc., including those pertaining to the licensing of contractors and the so-called "Kick-Back" Statute (48 Stat. 948) and regulations issued pursuant thereto.

5. Bidders' Qualifications: A Bidder who has not already completed similar construction for an REA borrower shall file with the Architect the Bidder's Qualifications on forms supplied by the Architect at least forty-eight (48) hours in advance of the scheduled bid opening.

6. Time of Completion of Construction: The time of completion of construction of the Project shall be as specified by the Architect in the Proposal.

7. Bid Bond: Each Proposal must be accompanied by bid bond in the form attached or a certified check on a bank that is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, payable to the order of the Owner, in an amount equal to ten percent (10 per cent) of the maximum bid price. Each bidder shall agree, provided its proposal is one of the three low proposals, that by filing its Proposal together with such bid bond or check in consideration of the Owner's receiving and considering such Proposal, said Proposal shall be firm and binding upon each such Bidder and such bid bond or check shall be held by the Owner until a Proposal is accepted and a satisfactory Contractor's Bond (or Builder's Risk Policy) is furnished by the successful Bidder and such acceptance has been approved by the Administrator, or for a period not to exceed sixty (60) days from the date hereinbefore set for the opening of Proposals whichever period shall be the shorter. If such Proposal is not one of the three low Proposals, the bid bond or check will be returned in each instance within a period of ten (10) days to the respective bidder.

8. The successful Bidder will be required to execute two additional counterparts of the Proposal and to furnish Contractor's Bond or Builder's Risk Policy in the form attached to the Proposal with sureties listed by the United States Treasury Department as Acceptable Sureties, in a penal sum not less than the contract price.

9. Failure to Furnish Contractor's Bond or Builders Risk Policy: Should the successful Bidder fail or refuse to furnish a Contractor's Bond (or Builder's Risk Policy) satisfactory to the Owner and the Administrator within fifteen days (15) after written notification of the acceptance of the Proposal by the Owner, the Bidder will be considered to have abandoned the Proposal. In such event, the Owner shall be entitled (a) to enforce the Bid Bond in accordance with its terms, or (b) if a certified check has been delivered with the Proposal, to retain from the proceeds of the certified check the difference (not exceeding the amount of the certified check) between the amount of the Proposal and such larger amount for which the Owner may in good faith contract with another party to construct the Project. The term "successful Bidder" shall be deemed to include any Bidder whose proposal is accepted after another Bidder has previously refused or has failed to furnish a satisfactory Contractor's Bond (or Builder's Risk Policy).

10. Contract is Entire Agreement: The contract, effected by acceptance of the Proposal shall be deemed to include the entire agreement between the parties thereto, and the Bidder shall not claim any modification thereof resulting from any representation or promise made at any time by any officer, agent or employee of the Owner or by any other person.

11. Minor Irregularities: The Owner reserves the right to waive minor irregularities or minor errors in the Proposal, if it appears to the Owner that such irregularities or errors were made through inadvertence. Any such irregularities or errors so waived must be corrected on the Proposal prior to its acceptance by the Owner.

12. Rejection of Proposals: The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all Proposals.

13. Discrepancies: Where a discrepancy appears between the sum of the Base Bids for each building and the Total Base Bid, the correct addition of the Base Bid price for each building shall control.

14. The Owner Represents: (a) If by provisions of the Proposal, the Owner shall have undertaken to furnish any materials for the construction of the Project, such materials are on hand at locations which may be determined by the Bidder's inquiry of the Architect, or if such materials are not on hand, they will be made available by the Owner to the successful Bidder before the time such materials are required for incorporation into the Project. (b) Title to the property on which the Project is to be constructed has been obtained. (c) All funds necessary for prompt payment for the construction of the Project will be available.

If the Owner should fail to comply with any of the undertakings contained in the foregoing representations or if any of such representations shall be incorrect, the Bidder will be entitled to an extension of the time of completion of construction for a period equal to the delay, if any, caused by the failure of the Owner to comply with such undertakings or by any such incorrect representations; provided the Bidder shall have promptly notified the Owner in writing of its desire to extend the time of completion in accordance with the foregoing, and provided further that such extension, if any, of the time of completion shall be the sole remedy of the Bidder for the Owner's failure to comply with any of the foregoing representations.

Arkansans in Tribute to Dr. King

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller told a crowd estimated at 5,000 Sunday that Arkansas "stands at the threshold of leading the nation in showing what people of good will can do."

The crowd, about two-thirds Negroes, gathered at the state Capitol at Little Rock for a memorial service honoring Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

El Dorado Mayor I. L. Pesses invoked a curfew Sunday afternoon after two white men, who allegedly pulled a pistol on some Negroes, were arrested.

There was an isolated incident at Pine Bluff Sunday afternoon, when two Negroes riding in a truck reportedly fired at a National Guard vehicle. No one was injured.

Police reported shooting incidents at Malvern and Little Rock earlier Sunday and firebombings at Hot Springs and North Little Rock.

Rockefeller, the principal speaker at the hour-long service, said the desegregation troubles at Little Rock Central High School in 1957 had caused the city to suffer economically and "in the eyes of the world."

said a lack of understanding and communication between the races had caused the problem in 1957 and said that "is not the case today."

The Rev. Cecil W. Cone I, pastor of the Union African Methodist Episcopal Church, spoke before Rockefeller, who had another speaking engagement.

"The white power structure of downtown (Little Rock) must take the lead, or they will have no downtown," Cone said.

He told the Negroes in the audience, "Let's wait a day and see if they really mean what they say. The dream of Martin Luther King must become a reality, and it must become a reality the day after tomorrow." To the whites he said, "You are going to have to stop talking and start acting. We are tired of listening to sweet-sounding words that try to rock us to sleep."

Cone received a standing ovation.

The Rev. Thadous Payne, president of the El Dorado Chapter of the NAACP, led the half-mile El Dorado march which preceded the arrest of the two men.

Officers said some of the 300 Negroes who participated in the march were walking in a group in downtown El Dorado when Robert Lum, 21, of El Dorado, pulled a .22-caliber pistol on them.

Authorities heard Negroes yelling and quickly took control of the situation. They arrested Lum and charged him with disturbing the peace and assault with a deadly weapon and arrested Ray Helms, 20, of El Dorado and charged him with disturbing the peace.

The curfew was to be lifted at 6 a.m. this morning.

Hot Spring County authorities said a shotgun blast struck a car driven by a rural newspaper carrier and damaged the small trailer he was towing early Sunday on Arkansas 51 between Malvern and Hot Springs. They said the shot came from a car filled with Negroes.

Malvern police said a pistol was fired into a patrol car in a Negro section of town early Sunday.

Four shotgun blasts were fired at a city bus Saturday night at Little Rock, according to police. Officers said the blasts slightly injured a white nurse.

Two groceries at North Little Rock were damaged by fire bombs Saturday night. Authorities said a brick-throwing incident at a drive-in restaurant resulted in the arrest of five Negro youths.

Five fires were reported at Hot Springs Saturday night and early Sunday. Officers said three were caused by fire bombs and attributed a fourth to arson. They said they were unable to determine the cause of a fire which caused about $35,000 damage at a lumber company.

Change Takes Place in Washington

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Down the mall from the bright bubble of the Capitol dome to the brooding figure in the Lincoln Memorial, Washington looks the same. But a deep change has taken place.

A city that had been slowly hardening into two separate cities, one white and one black, has been made searingly aware it is one. How it reacts to this awareness may hold an answer for other cities afflicted with racial troubles.

One answer seems apparent: A cool and carefully planned response to looting and burning without the bloodshed and violence that marked last summer's riots in Newark and Detroit.

In the early stages of the disorders in the capital, the outnumbered police were withdrawn from trouble areas so they would not have to resort to gunfire to protect themselves.

Later, backed by federal troops, they moved forcibly but with restraint against the looters and rounded up curfew violators by the droves.

The result was a minimum of deaths and injuries and a massive 4,800 arrests. The performance of the District of Columbia police and the troops has drawn praise from Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and is likely to set a pattern for the police in other cities.

There was encouragement also in the immediate response of the white community to the despair the black community inflicted on itself in its blind rage and frustration.

Appeals for food for the persons living in the riot area, where food stores were either burned, looted or locked up, brought a tremendous outpouring from the white areas.

"This is the real beginning of the real meaning of the life of Martin Luther King," said a white civic leader active in the food drive, who was overwhelmed by the response.

For the long haul, however, the Negroes in Washington need what they need in every urban area—more and better jobs, better schools and better housing. And it takes more than a willing spirit to supply them.

Congress has passed bills to meet all these needs and President Johnson has asked for more, but a lack of money has crippled many of the programs.

The day before the rioting started in Washington, the House approved an appropriation bill that eliminated $75 million for a summer program for unemployed youths and an additional $25 million for the Head Start preschool program.

Johnson, who could see the smoke from the burning Negro areas from the White House, would probably like to request some emergency legislation to deal with the problem.
